

New Student Orientation

The University is continuously monitoring the weather and the City's drainage pumping conditions. Presently, orientation is still scheduled as planned. We will update families via email, text messages, and the website should conditions change. We look forward to seeing you!

For details on New Student Orientation, visit HERE.